REPORT.

FOR THE

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31ST, 1876.

During the year 1876 the metropolis has not been visited by severe epidemic prevalence of any of the diseases received into the London Fever Hospital, though its later months have been marked by a violent outbreak of Small-pox. Scarlet Fever, however, has been present throughout the year, and there was much Enteric Fever during the autumn and early part of the winter. The total number of admissions in 1876 was 730, as compared with 710 in 1875, and 384 in 1874; of these, 677 were cases of Fever, 53 of other diseases.

Fevers admitted during the Year 1876.	Males.	Females.	Total.
Typhus Fever	10	13	23
Enteric Fever	50	37	87
Scarlet Fever.....	252	264	516
Measles	22	22	44
Febricula	2	5	7
Total.....	336	341	677

It will be seen that a very large proportion of the cases were cases of Scarlet Fever, and by the next table (III.), which gives the number of cases of the different Fevers in each month, it is shown that these were pretty evenly distributed throughout the year, while more than half the cases of Enteric Fever were admitted during the three months, September, October, and November.

Of Typhus there were 23 cases admitted, 10 males and 13 females. Five of these were from other hospitals and charitable institutions, and paid a fee; all the others were admitted free except one, sent to the Hospital and maintained there by sanitary authorities. Of the free cases 10 belonged to the artisan classes, 5 were nurses or domestic servants, while the occupation of two was unknown. Two nurses and a scrubber included in the five just mentioned contracted the disease in the Hospital. The deaths from Typhus during the year were 7 in number, 3 males and 4 females, giving a mortality of 28 per cent. of the cases treated to their termination. The nurses and scrubber all recovered.

The number of cases of Enteric Fever admitted was 87, 50 males and 37 females, being 19 more than in 1875. The influence of the hot and dry summer is seen in the fact that 45 out of the 87 cases were received in September, October, and November. Only one occupied a private ward; 12 were domestic servants paid for by their masters; 10 were clerks or assistants in business houses, tradesmen, or their families, and paid; while 7 were sent to the Hospital by order of sanitary authorities. The number admitted free was 43.

The deaths from Enteric Fever during the year were 12 in number, giving a general mortality of 15 per cent. among the 80 cases treated to their termination within the year. Of 46 males 4 died, or 8·69 per cent.; of 34 females 8 died, or 23·53 per cent.

The principal complications occurring in the course of Enteric Fever were as follow:—

One of these cases was admitted with Measles, but developed Enteric Fever a few days after his admission.

The mortalities in the above table are reckoned on the numbers of cases admitted during the year, and treated to the termination of their illness.

Scarlet Fever shows a slight falling-off in the number of admissions as compared with 1875, 516 cases having been received in 1876, and 525 in 1875. In the Asylums for Paupers suffering from Fever the difference has, however, been much greater. Of the admissions 252 were males, 262 females. No fewer than 40 cases of Scarlatina occupied private wards as compared with 23 in 1875, which shows that as the existence of these rooms becomes more generally known the demand for them increases. It is in this disease that they are most needed, and no department of the Institution is more highly appreciated. The ordinary admission fee was paid with 230 cases, of whom 101 were domestic servants; 9 were policemen, and 29 members of soldiers' families, with regard to whom special arrangements are made; 8 were admitted on the order of sanitary authorities, 9 by Governors' orders, 188 free.

The deaths from Scarlet Fever during the year have been 49 in number out of 546 cases treated to their termination. This gives a general mortality of 8·97 per cent. Deducting from the admissions and deaths 8 cases in which a fatal result occurred within 24 hours after admission, the mortality is 7·62 per cent. Among the males, 268 in number, 35 died, or 13·05 per cent. ; or deducting 4 deaths which occurred within twenty-four hours of admission, 11·74 per cent. Of the females, 278 in number, 14 died, giving a mortality of 5·03 per cent. ; and with the correction for 4 deaths taking place within twenty-four hours of admission, the mortality becomes 3·4 per cent. The remarkable difference in the mortality of the males and females is attributable in some measure to the greater number of young children among the males, as will be seen by the table which gives the age of the patients.

The number of cases having steadily remained above 50—the number fixed as the work of one Physician—the services of Dr. Cayley have been called for, and he has attended through the year. An addition has been made to the staff by the election of Dr. Mahomed, formerly Resident Medical Officer of the Hospital, to the office of Assistant Physician. W. Scovel Savory, Esq., F.R.S., has been appointed Consulting Surgeon to the Hospital in the place of the late Mr. Campbell De Morgan, whose loss was greatly regretted by the Committee. An Assistant Resident Medical Officer, Mr. Harvey, has also been appointed.

The health of the officers, nurses, and servants has been satisfactory during the past year. In addition to the nurses and scrubber previously referred to as having suffered from Typhus, one medical officer and one nurse contracted Scarlet Fever, both recovered. Three servants had slight ailments, but no one besides those mentioned suffered from any serious illness.

The Committee desire to express their thanks to the Rev. Father Smith and to Mr. Copeman, who have with great devotion and at much personal risk acted as Chaplains; they regret to have to add that the latter gentleman has had a serious illness contracted in the course of his labours among the sick.

It is now five years since the opening of the Pauper Fever Asylums made the Fever Hospital no longer the only resource for Fever in London. Up to that time the reception of paupers shut out in a great measure other classes, and in particular made it impossible to admit cases free. It appeared for a time as if the work of the Institution had come to an end. In 1872 only 182 cases were admitted, and of these some were paupers; in 1873 only 167, so that it seemed wasteful to keep up a large building and establishment to so little purpose, and it was in fact proposed to sell the Hospital. Efforts were however made, which have been described in previous Reports, to adapt the Hospital to the new conditions, and to open up for it a new sphere of usefulness, the results of which are now becoming capable of estimation. One of the measures adopted with this view was the construction of eight private wards for one or two patients each.

The inconvenience and danger to which persons were exposed who were attacked with Fever in hotels, or chambers, or lodging-houses, had long been known. The safety of others, and the interest of landlords, made their removal necessary, and it very frequently happened that the only rooms which could be procured were quite unfit for the treatment of long and severe illness. In schools again and large families the prompt removal of a source of infection is often urgently required. The private wards have met this requirement, and the greatest gratitude has been expressed by those who have taken advantage of them. 49 cases have been treated in them during the year; that is, these eight beds have had one fifteenth of the cases in a Hospital containing more than 200 beds; or, as it may be otherwise put, each of the eight beds has had six patients, while each bed in the general wards has had only $3\frac{1}{2}$. At times they have been all occupied, and patients have been waiting for them in the general wards. It has been found difficult to make known the existence of these private wards, but this is being gradually accomplished, as is shown by the increasing number of occupants not accounted for by any epidemic.

Another measure brought into operation is the admission of members of the Artisan Classes without payment or Governors' letters. During the year 136 cases have been so received. The Hospital in this way sacrifices a great source of income in order that there may be no check on its usefulness; but the Committee believe that this will ultimately be recognised by the public and bring to the Institution the increased support which it so greatly needs.

In the last Report it was mentioned that the sanitary authorities of the Parish of Kensington had made arrangements with the Hospital for the admission of cases of Fever occurring in families not receiving parish relief, who were ordered to be removed to prevent the spread of contagion. The example has been followed by several other districts, and 17 cases have been admitted on the order of sanitary authorities during the year. This is in principle an important step, and may contribute greatly to the importance of the Hospital, but the degree to which the principle may be developed cannot yet be foreseen.

No pains have been spared to keep the Hospital abreast with the Hygienic requirements which are suggested by increasing knowledge, and a large expenditure is thereby incurred. For the better disinfection of clothing and bedding a Ransom's oven has been set up, in which a uniform temperature of 250° F. can be maintained, and three small rooms have been built in connection with it.

Although the number of cases under treatment during the year is by no means inconsiderable, it falls far short of the capabilities of the Hospital, and of its work in former times. The large size of the building, and the present excess of the accommodation over the requirements for it, make the expenditure large ; but a Fever Hospital must have great fluctuation in the number of cases admitted according as there is or is not epidemic prevalence of one or other form of Fever, and its usefulness is dependent on its readiness to meet any emergency which may arise. The Committee feel that the Hospital is in this as in all respects answering the purpose of its existence, and confidently commend it to public support.

CHARLES FINN, Secretary.

LONDON FEVER HOSPITAL,

LIVERPOOL ROAD, ISLINGTON.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS.

Objects of the Institution.

1. ALL poor persons (not being parochial paupers) and domestic servants of subscribers, labouring under contagious fever, and residing in the metropolis or its neighbourhood, shall be considered proper objects for this charity, and shall be admitted gratuitously, according to the next regulation. Domestic servants, employes in houses of business, and others similarly situated, and all inmates of other public charities (except medical hospitals), shall be admitted on the payment of such sum for each patient as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

2. On application for the admission of any patient to the Hospital, notice shall be immediately given to the resident medical officer, and the person after inspection may be admitted by an order signed by him, or on a certificate signed by any physician, surgeon, or apothecary, stating the disease to be fever of a contagious nature, or likely to become such. The order or certificate shall entitle the patient to admission, subject to the provisions contained in Rule No. 1, unless the case shall be deemed an improper one by the resident medical officer, or unless the Hospital shall be full.

Governors.

3. All subscribers of one guinea annually, or of ten guineas in one donation, shall be governors of this Hospital.

General Meeting and Election of the Committee.

4. A general meeting of the governors, of which ten days' previous notice must be given in three morning newspapers, shall be held every year, on the second Friday in February, or as near thereto as may be convenient, for the purpose of approving or rescinding the proceedings of the Committee for the preceding year ; for receiving an annual report of the state of the funds ; and for electing a president, vice-presidents, treasurer, honorary secretary, and other members of the Committee for the ensuing year. At all meetings connected with the affairs of the Hospital, a simple majority of the governors present and voting shall bind the minority ; and in case of equality of votes, the chairman shall have an additional vote or casting vote.

5. A special general meeting of the governors may at any time be called by direction of the president or of the Committee ; or on the requisition of any twelve governors, provided the requisition be made in writing to the Secretary, and the purpose for which the same is summoned be published in three morning newspapers at least ten days prior to the next meeting ; but the proceedings of such special general meeting, though acted upon pro tempore, shall not be deemed final until confirmed by another general meeting.

6. No new rule or law shall be made, nor shall any existing rule or law be repealed or altered, until determined upon at a general meeting by a majority of governors present and voting, and until confirmed at a subsequent general or special meeting.

7. The presence of seven governors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at general meetings, and without that number no business shall be transacted.

8. At the annual general meeting, a Committee for the management of the institution shall be elected, consisting of the president, the vice-presidents, the treasurer, honorary secretary, and twenty-four other governors; four of which governors shall not have been members of the preceding Committee. They shall meet on the last Friday, or on such other day of every month as the Committee may appoint; and three members shall be necessary to constitute a meeting, and to transact business. A special meeting of the Committee may be called by the direction of the treasurer, or by any three members of the Committee, on giving at least three days' notice of the same, and specifying the business for which it is called.

9. The Committee shall have authority to appoint sub-committees, whose reports shall be submitted to their consideration; they shall elect all the officers, except the physicians of the Hospital and the honorary secretary, who shall be elected by the governors at large; and, with the assistance of the medical officers, shall form regulations and bye-laws for the internal management of the Hospital.

10. The resolutions of one meeting of the Committee shall not be rescinded by another, unless it be specially summoned for that purpose. All accounts, except such small sums as may be comprised under the item of petty cash, shall be submitted to the Committee at the monthly meetings, after having been duly examined by the secretary, the resident medical officer, and the house-directors; and such accounts, if approved, shall be paid by cheques payable to order, signed in Committee by the chairman and one other member, or, in case a Committee cannot be formed, by two of the house-directors, and in all cases countersigned by the secretary. All the larger articles of supply, when practicable, shall be furnished by contract made after public tender. No expenditure for repairs of premises or for machinery shall be incurred, without a written order from the Committee or house-directors.

11. The Committee shall yearly publish a report of the state of the Hospital.

12. No person being a member of the Committee shall furnish for profit any goods, provisions, or other articles, for the use of, or on account of, the Hospital, nor be concerned in any contract for supplying the same, or be employed for hire, wages, or profit, in any office or employment under the charity.

Treasurer.

13. The treasurer, if present, shall take the chair at all meetings of the Committee, in the absence of the president or vice-presidents. He shall keep an account at the bankers', and all moneys received for the use of the Hospital shall be paid into such account; he shall honour all cheques signed, as provided in article 10; and the signature of the secretary shall be a sufficient warranty that the cheques purporting to be so signed are properly signed, and shall be an indemnity to the treasurer against risk.

Auditors.

14. Three gentlemen shall be appointed annually at the meeting of the Committee in November, who shall audit the accounts of the Institution for the current year, and approve an abstract of all receipts and disbursements to be prepared by the secretary, and laid before the annual general meeting in February.

Monthly Directors.

15. The Committee shall at their first meeting, in the month of February, elect three members of their own body to be directors of the Hospital, in addition to the trustees and two senior physicians, who shall be ex officio directors. And the Committee may appoint one of such directors to be the chairman, who shall retain his office for the ensuing twelve months, the Committee appointing the other directors, excepting the ex officio directors, monthly. Two of the directors to form a quorum.

16. They shall from time to time cause the beds, clothes, and apparel belonging to the Hospital to be examined, and shall report thereon, if necessary, to the Committee. They shall inspect the tradesmen's bills, and take care that the provisions, bedding, clothing, furniture, and every article for the use of the Hospital, be supplied on the most reasonable terms; they shall order in writing permanent stores.

17. They shall be authorised in all respects to enforce the observance of the regulations of the Hospital; they shall notice and report to the Committee any irregularity or misconduct on the part of the officers, servants, or patients of the Hospital, and shall, at every meeting of the Committee, cause a statement of the house expenditure to be produced for the preceding month. They shall appoint the porters, nurses, and other menial servants of the Hospital, and dismiss them for misconduct.

17A. The chairman of the directors shall, during the intervals between the meetings, be authorised to exercise the functions of the directors in any matter of urgency, he reporting, at their next meeting, what he shall have done under that authority.

Physicians.

18. There shall be two physicians and two assistant physicians, who shall be Fellows or Members (formerly called Licentiates) of the Royal College of Physicians of London; and also a consulting surgeon, who shall be a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.

19. The physicians and assistant physicians shall be elected by the governor at large; and no governor shall be qualified to vote, unless he shall have been a governor three months before a vacancy is declared.

20. One of the physicians shall visit the Hospital at least once every day, at such times as they may deem necessary. They shall have the power of dismissing any patient or convalescent for refractory conduct or disobedience of orders.

Assistant Physicians.

21. In case of the illness or necessary absence of either of the physicians, one of the assistant physicians shall attend regularly in his stead. Such attendances are to be reported to the Committee.

Hospital Pupils.

22. No medical student shall be permitted to visit the Hospital unless in company with one of the physicians, and unless he is regularly entered or registered as a pupil.

Resident Medical Officer.

23. The resident medical officer shall reside constantly at the Hospital, and shall devote himself entirely to the duties of his office; and, previously to his election, he shall be required to produce satisfactory testimonials to the Committee.

24. He shall superintend the patients between the visits of the physicians, and the dispensary shall be exclusively under his control. In the absence of the Committee and house-directors, he shall be recognised as the head of the establishment.

25. Accurate registers of the patients admitted, as well as of the remedies employed for their recovery, shall be kept, which registers shall be the property of the Hospital; he shall produce a special report every month, to be laid before the Committee.

26. When the number of patients shall be great, a medical assistant shall be appointed by the house-directors, subject to the confirmation of the Committee, and he shall receive such remuneration as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

Honorary Secretary.

27. There shall be an honorary secretary, who shall also be a member of the Committee, and chosen annually with them. He shall be at liberty to attend all deputations to public bodies and private persons. He shall communicate with persons concerning the affairs of the Hospital during the intervals between the monthly meetings of the Committee, and shall report to the Committee, at their next meeting, all special or important events that shall have occurred within his knowledge during the month. He shall also assist the treasurer in the discharge of his duties when necessary.

Secretary and House Steward.

28. The duties of this officer shall be to reside in the Hospital, if required by the Committee, and, in the absence of the house-directors, to have the management of the domestic affairs of the Hospital, under the general superintendence of the resident medical officer. He shall be required to enter into a bond, with sufficient sureties, for the due and faithful performance of his duties. He shall also perform the several duties specified in the bye-laws.

Matron.

29. The duties of the matron shall principally relate to the wards, the kitchen, and the laundry. She shall exercise a strict superintendence over the nurses, shall have the charge of linen, bedding, glass, crockery, and ordinary kitchen and scullery stores, subject to the general supervision of the house-steward ; and shall visit every ward of the Hospital at least three times in the day. She shall also perform the several duties specified in the bye-laws.

Collector.

30. The duties of this officer shall be—

To call on subscribers and collect all donations and subscriptions of the Hospital ; to give only authorised printed receipts for the same ; to attend all meetings, when required ; to keep correct lists and duplicate lists of all donations and subscriptions, with the residences of the donors and subscribers made up from day to day ; to pay weekly all moneys he may receive to the bankers ; to deliver weekly to the secretary reports in writing of all moneys received and paid, with the balance at the bankers ; to keep the accounts regularly entered in the collector's cash book ; to deliver a copy of the annual report to each subscriber ; and to give such security, with sureties, for the due and faithful performance of his duties, as may be required.

Nurses.

31. The head nurse in each ward shall attend principally to the patients, and to the keeping of the wards clean and quiet.

32. The under nurses shall be under the direction of the head nurses, and shall perform the more menial offices of the Hospital.

Porter and Engineer.

33. The porter and the engineer shall be employed as the Committee or directors may think proper. They shall not absent themselves without the permission of the house-directors or resident medical officer.

Trustees.

34. The legal estate in the lands, buildings, and premises of the Hospital shall be vested in five trustees, new trustees being appointed when vacancies occur at a general meeting of the governors.

35. All legacies of £100 and upwards, unless otherwise directed by the testators, shall be invested for the benefit of the Hospital, in the names of three trustees, to be called trustees of the fund.

36. No variation in the usual gratuities and fixed salaries shall be made, unless the Committee be specially summoned for that purpose, and unless the proposed addition or diminution be confirmed by a subsequent Committee.

Bye-laws.

37. The bye-laws which shall from time to time be made by the Committee shall be open to the inspection of any subscriber, and shall contain, among other things, a full specification of the duties of the resident medical officer, the matron, and other officers of the Institution, with the practices usually adopted for their election ; which specification shall be read out to every individual before his appointment, and referred to on all occasions of doubt.
